FALKE Skiing

Based on the design of the Ski Capsule for its 125th anniversary, FALKE is presenting a special ski collection for women and men for the Autumn/Winter 2021/22 season. The collection consists of ski socks in various styles, underwear trend sets and outerwear made of different materials. The collection is complemented by matching accessories such as caps and headbands. Thus, the Capsule offers head-to-toe product equipment for the whole day on the mountain - on and off the piste.

In terms of colour, bright turquoise, radiant red as well as black, white and grey tones dominate the products for women. For men, dark blue replaces turquoise and is also combined with black, white, grey and red.

The already familiar "Ski" lettering - inspired by the first FALKE terrycloth ski socks from 1979 - adorns simple T-shirts, functional thermal layers and casual sweatshirts. Ribbed turtlenecks, sporty half-zip knit jumpers and quilted jackets blend in with the colours of the collections for men and women.

Different caps, headbands, balaclavas and arm warmers are also adapted to the entire capsule through their colour-coordinated design and round off après-ski outfits in particular perfectly, both functionally and visually.

The two bestselling ski socks FALKE SK2 and FALKE SK4 will be available in sporty, attractive trend versions for the autumn/winter 2021/22 season. Matching the colour scheme of the clothing, the FALKE SK2 in colour block design impresses with medium-weight padding and a balanced combination of comfort and support. The FALKE SK4 is particularly suitable for skiers who attach great importance to control and optimum power transmission. The "Ski" lettering of the Capsule Collection is also visually reflected here.
