FALKE Apparel

Rethinking the future beyond socks

The FALKE Apparel collections are known for innovative clothing and fascinating knitted products. With expertise from 125 years of company history, FALKE has developed contemporary and sporty outerwear with a high demand on aesthetics. The results are durable products that make the fine difference thanks to high-quality materials and careful production. The fall/winter 2021 collection is divided into three capsules.

Basic All Time Needs - Simple, timeless knitwear characterizes the capsule. Round neck sweaters, V-necks and zip jackets form the basis. Short and long-sleeved shirts are also available, optionally with polo collars. Accessories like scarves and caps complete the collection. All products have in common that they are easy to care for, lie comfortably on the skin and can be combined perfectly. The finest merino wool ensures a pleasant wearing comfort and optimal heat regulation.

Travel - Merino wool, Pima cotton and silk are the most important materials of the Travel Capsule. The sweaters, jackets and pants are particularly uncomplicated companions as they do not form any folds. Comfortable cuts and pleasant stretch contribute to a feeling of well-being, even on long journeys. Practical pockets for stowing the travel documents and an eye mask for flights complete the look.

Luxury - Luxurious cashmere understatement in natural colours meets minimalist design for people with high expectations. Elegant round neck sweaters, zip jackets and coats are the key pieces of the collection. For ladies, a knitted skirt and a long cardigan are also available. Hats, scarves and socks, also made of cashmere qualities, complete every outfit in this capsule as well.
